Mrs. Harry Levy of Los Angeles, Calif., is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. H. Jodrey, and her sisters, Mrs. Myron Bryant, Mrs. Dorothy Tucker, and Mrs. Ella Hale.

"BREEZIN' ALONG" AT BRYANT POND

How would you spend thirty-five thousand a day? The Judith Grover Tent, D. of V., will give the public the opportunity of seeing how this is done on July 28-29 at the Bryant Pond Grange Hall. Come and see the leading man in "Breezin' Along" work out the problem. Seven million dollars must be spent in one year. The faster he spends money, the more he makes. This plot is depicted in three acts with eight fascinating dance routines, also many song specialties.

All local talent, ages "nine to nineteen" will appear in this modern, scintillating, spectacular musical comedy. Catchy tunes, modern dancing, smart costumes, and clever repartee comprises the musical comedy, "Breezin' Along."

The Director will arrive next week to start recruiting talent. The Judith Grover Tent, D. of V., promises the public an evening of laughter and amusement that no one can afford to miss.

Keep the dates, July 28-29, open in your social calendar.

MRS. MARTHA E. MARTIN

After several weeks' illness, Mrs. Martha E. Martin passed away July 7 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Coffin, at North Paris. Mrs. Martin was born in New Hampshire Nov. 16, 1852, the daughter of Jonathan B. and Tryphena C. Smith.

At the age of 18 years she married John Wesley Martin of Rumford and they went to Milan where Mr. Martin was engaged in the blacksmith trade for over 20 years.

About 25 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Martin purchased the residence on High Street, since remodelled as the Household Arts Cottage, where they lived until moving to North Paris 18 years ago.

Since the death of her husband Mrs. Martin has lived with her daughter who has cared for her tenderly during her last years. She was a member of the Milan lodge of Rebekahs, Purity Chapter O. E. S. and the Bethel Universalist Church.

Mrs. Martin was the oldest of eight children, two of whom are living, Freeborn Smith of Augusta and Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin of Bethel. She is also survived by the daughter Mrs. Coffin, and two grandsons, Clarence Coffin of North Paris and Leland Coffin of New York.

Funeral services were held at her late home Monday afternoon attended by Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes, pastor of the West Paris Universalist Church. Members of Purity Chapter O. E. S. performed their service. Interment was in the West Paris cemetery.

Mrs. Raymond Jackson and two children of Amesbury, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Philbrook, several days last week.

Dr. Ralph Otis Hood will practice at Bryant Pond on Wednesdays beginning next week. Appointments may be made at the residence of Mrs. N. I. Swan, Bryant Pond or at his Bethel office.

Due to a misunderstanding in dates Boy Scout Sunday was not observed July 9. However July 16 is the local day set aside to observe Boy Scout Sunday, services to be held at the Methodist Church.

Kelth Bradbury and Richard Box of Norway, Theodore Sloan, Sumner Bean and Charles Foster of Albany, H. T. Sawin, Laurence, Hildred, Phyllis, Lois, and Bessie Bartlett spent the Fourth at Albany House.

COLLEGIANS WIN OVER MARRIED MEN

Comeback Arranged for Next Sunday in Attempt to Avenge 18-4 Defeat

A local team of married men was soundly trounced by a team of so-called "Collegians" last Sunday afternoon at Riverside Park. Dr. Wilson pitched for the married men and Bob Littlehale for the winners. Both tossed a good brand of ball considering.

Scotty Robertson led the married men at the bat with two hits for as many runs. Hinkley, Hood, and Littlehale starred at the stick for the collegians. The real features of the game were the eleven errors by the married men which contributed much to the collegians' score.

The married men are keen to tackle this same team at the Park Sunday and hope to limit the collegians to a nine man team by picking their own umpires and scorers. The game starts at 2:30. A collection will be taken to cover the cost of balls.

The box score:

PLAYGROUND OPENED FOR SUMMER SEASON

The playground at the Primary School building, sponsored by the Bethel Lions Club, was opened last Monday morning in charge of Miss Mary Thurston. Children up to 11 years of age are welcomed at the grounds. The hours are from 9 to 12 in the forenoon and 1:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon, every week day but Saturday regardless of weather. This program will continue for six weeks.

PLEASANT PROGRAM GIVEN AT GRANGE MEETING

Bethel Grange held its regular meeting last Thursday evening with attendance of ten members and twelve officers. After the usual routine of business the following program was presented: Singing by the Grange Reading, "Feb. 29."

Mrs. Wallace Coolidge Reading, "The Railroad and the Blacksmith."

Mrs. Charles Kimball Song, Ida Lee Clough with Mary Clough at the piano.

Reading, "St. Peter at the Gate."

Mrs. F. E. Russell Miss Eva Hastings Miss Maxine Clough

AMERICAN LEGION CONVENTION

The American Legion State Convention held at Portland July 3-5 was one of the most colorful ever held. The Convention officially was opened at Portland's city hall on Monday morning with an address of welcome from a representative of the City Council. Dept. Commander Cleaves of Bar Harbor appeared. On behalf of the State Governor Brann gave a short address, then followed various preliminary reports, concluded by an address by Mr. Taylor of the National legislative committee, who pointed out the way in which the present draft act, in veteran's appropriations were accomplished in Washington.

Monday afternoon was spent in visiting the Raleigh Club and witnessing a junior baseball game between Sanford and Lewiston won by the former. In the evening a boxing match was held in the Exposition building, also block dancing on High Street and a Military ball at the City Hall.

Tuesday morning one of the most impressive parades staged in Portland passed in review before the City Hall. More than 20 drum and bugle corps participated. In the afternoon 14 drum and bugle corps competed in the Stadium, the contest being won by Biddeford. In the evening fireworks were displayed on the Eastern Promenade.

The final business session was held at City Hall Wednesday morning, where final reports were read. Various resolutions were adopted. The Convention refused to consider a resolution favoring repeal of the 18th Amendment. The Convention closed with the election of officers for next year. Raymond Randall of Alfred, a very active worker in the Legion and a man of wide vision and high integrity, was unanimously elected Department Commander.

FIELD DAY PROGRAM PLANNED JULY 29 AT RIVERSIDE PARK

Plans are under way for a program of Model T Ford races, motorcycle and bicycle races to be held at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon, July 29. It is expected that a baseball game will be included in the afternoon's events, and the admission charges will be low enough so that all may attend.

To assure the success of the afternoon anyone in the county interested in entering the races should apply at the Citizen office for further particulars, entry blanks, etc. Definite arrangements for the conduct of the races and other features will be completed soon, in ample time to assure a pleasing program if sufficient numbers of entries are forthcoming. Prizes will be offered the winners.

Entries in the Model T race may be either stripped down or with standard bodies. No Fords with special gears will be accepted for entry. A trial run of 30 miles per hour will be required to qualify for the race. Motorcycles of any standard make are welcomed in the motorcycle races. Bicycle entrants must be 17 years of age or under.

PROGRESS ON WORK AT ACADEMY BUILDING

Contrary to the prediction in our last week's issue the Academy building did not arrive at its new location last Saturday. It is reported however that it will be moved by the last of this week.

Crumley & Crockett of Rumford, who have the moving contract, also have the work of excavating and grading for the new building and have started removing the team between the Academy and the Household Arts Cottage.

The H. E. Whitten Co. of Boston, who will do the steamfitting in the new structure, are now modernizing the steam plant and building a new waterproof pit in the boiler room at the Gymnasium.

A substantial fence has been built, following the lines of the sidewalk much of the way on the Church and High Street sides of the campus. The work is attracting many spectators and the fence will be for their safety and convenience.

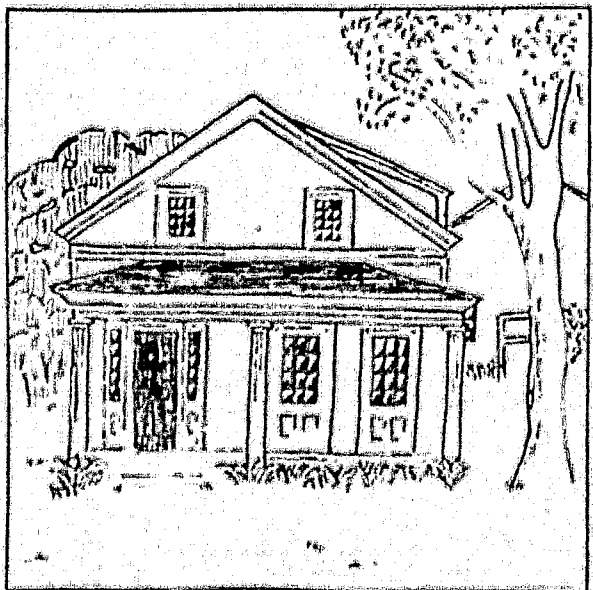

DRY DELEGATES CHOSEN FOR CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

A meeting of those opposed to the repeal of the 18th Amendment was held at the Congregational Church at South Paris last Saturday afternoon, to make plans for the campaign on the amendment, on which the vote will be taken on the 11th of September. At that election delegates will be chosen as members of a constitutional convention which will act upon the amendment. About 25 from all parts of the county attended the conference on Saturday, at which Elmer L. Aldrich of Norway, chairman of the county committee, presided. Oxford County will have four delegates in the convention. As "dry" candidates the following were selected, and their names will go on the ballot:

Isabel H. Stickney, Brownfield
Elmer L. Aldrich, Norway
George R. Morton, Paris
Charles H. Holman, Dixfield.

According to a report of the Department of Commerce there are 35 licensed and 21 unlicensed aircraft in the State, and 77 licensed pilots.

TOWERS

Marguerite M. Brooks

I stood high up on the mountain
And gazed on the scene below,
And my heart was filled with pity
For those who never know
Or feel the response of nature
Free from artificiality,
And their ears never tuned to the song of a bird,
Or the whispering of the trees.

They who climb to the highest
towers,
And as far as the eye can scan See the skyscrapers, domes, and spires—

Great architectural works of man,
And marvel at their beauty
And think it surpasses all else,
Should gaze from the heights of a mountain
And see the beauty of nature itself.

The sun shone down o'er the valley,
And the sky was blue and clear
And my thoughts were of these people

And I wished they could be here
To see the beautiful meadows,
With the cattle grazing there,
And the river slowly winding its way
And the glistening lake so fair.

Mem'ry will ever weave a picture,
And my thoughts will ever go
As they did when I stood on the mountain

And gazed on the scene below,
And, they, who will, may climb to the towers,
The greatest in the land,
But I'd rather climb to the mountain
And see the towers of God's own hand.

THE QUITTER

Robert W. Service

When you're lost in the wild and you're scared as a child, At I death look you hang in the air;
And you're gone as a bolt, it's according to Hoyle
To cock your revolver and die,
But the end of a man says fight
all you can,
And self-dissolution is barred;
In hunger and war, oh it's easy to blow
It's the hell served for breakfast
that's hard.

You're sick of the game? Well now, that's a shame!
You're young and you're brave
and you're bright, You've had a raw deal, I know, but don't squeal.
Buck up, do your damndest and fight!
It's the plugging away that will win you the day,
So don't be a piker, old pard;
Just draw on your grit; it's so easy to quit—
It's the keeping your chin up
that's hard.

It's easy to cry that you're beaten
and die,
It's easy to crawl and crawl,
But to fight and to fight when hope's out of sight, Why, that's the best game of them all.
And though you come out of each gruelling bout,
All broken and beaten and scarred—
Just have one more try. It's easy to die,
It's the keeping on living that's hard.

WORK

Henry Van Dyke

Let me do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at the desk or loom,
In roaring market-place or tranquil room;
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me
astray,
"This is my work; my blessing,
not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great,
nor small,
To put my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest,
Because I know for me my work is best.

PREHISTORIC GRIME

Visitor (looking over fraternity towers are against the law?" Brother, "Oh yer, but that one was put up before the law was passed."

Soldering has been found to be an ancient art. It was used in the 11th century to stop up holes and seal joints.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Hundreds and thousands of summer people have arrived in Maine since July 1st, many coming for week ends and more to spend their entire vacation. We bid you welcome, welcome to our State!

July 9—The sky is overcast this day, but warm, and the weatherman speaks of rain. A gentle rain will be much appreciated by the thirsty gardens.

In viewing the general display of garden flowers I wonder how many have noticed the unusual beauty of the roses. The season has been perfect for their flowering. Observation shows this in their brilliant colors, size and beauty, with foliage of beautiful large green leaves, making a perfect bouquet of themselves.

James Abbott of North Paris is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harland Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Davis of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Austin and daughter, Bessie Edith, of Bryant Pond spent Sunday, July 2 with Mr. Austin's father, Arno
Austin and family at Dixfield.

Mrs. Jessie Andrews spent the day, June 5, at Norway.

Mrs. Eva Andrews Titus, daughter of A. M. Andrews of this place, and wife of Roy Titus of South Paris, who entered St. Barnabas Hospital, June 11, for an operation for a critical case of goiter, has recently returned to her home.
The operation was successfully performed and all symptoms of disease are now passed. Mrs. Titus is resting comfortably at her home and is well under way to perfect recovery.

Miss Phyllis Hatt of Jamaica Plain, Mass., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews.

Our little schoolboys of Union
School, "The Sprinters," played ball June 9 with the "Scrappers," the North Paris school team, at North Paris and acknowledge their defeat of 27 to 23. The "Sprinters" will entertain the "Scrappers" on June 16 at South Woodstock on their home grounds where they hope to reverse the defeat.

A "goose party" left here June 8 for Long Island at Portland, for a week's rest and recreation. The ladies, some of them having several years past experience, were Mrs. Jessie Andrews, Mrs. Jessie

Abbott, Mrs. Annie Davis, Mrs.
Nellie Merrill, Mrs. Rena Howe, and Mrs. Maggie Verrill; Warren Abbott was included as the Ugly Duckling.

The day, June 6, arrived. The program previously arranged showed interesting numbers. Who would get the prize, a beautiful quilt, made by the Willing Workers for this their annual sale and entertainment given at Union Church?

Listen. We are all puffed up.
Some of our home boys; Stan Andrews, Bob Farrington, and Art Farrington have played four games of baseball this week with our town team, and won every game.
Hurrah, South Woodstock! They also won several of the prize plums in the West Paris 4th of July parade, all firsts and seconds. Who blames us for shouting?

The teacher had carefully explained to the class that the lion was a most ferocious animal.
"However," the teacher said,
"there is one animal of which the lion is afraid. Can any one of you tell me which one it is?" A voice in the back of the room belonging to an individual who young in years was evidently informed on the great American family, piped up and said, "The lioness."

Perkins Valley — Woodstock

Emma Perham returned home on Friday from caring for Mrs. John Allen and twin babies.

Fred Waterhouse and crew of West Paris are painting Nelson
Perham's buildings.

Melford Perham is unloading coal at the County Jail at South Paris this week.

Marjorie Brown was a guest of her sister, Emma Perham, Sunday.
Nelson Perham and family and Elwood Pierce and family were in Norway shopping Saturday night.

WEST PARIS

The Class of 1927 of West Paris High School held a reunion at Curtis Camp, Pleasant Pond, Sunday, July 9th. The following spent a most enjoyable day: Linwood Curtis, Joe Penley, Leone Bane, and Elmo Ellingwood, all of West Paris; Francis Farwell, of Woodfords; Raymond Dean and two friends of New Hampshire; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery, Locke Mills; Mr. and Mrs. George Gardner, West Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Wardwell, Buckfield.

Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes officiated at a funeral at Bethel Saturday, at Buckfield Sunday, and at North Paris Monday.

Rev. Orrell Bryant of Clinton, N. C., gave a very interesting address at the Universalist Church Sunday morning relative to his efforts in the Southland during the past five years, which have been very encouraging from a religious and educational standpoint. Rev. E. B. Forbes read the scripture and offered prayer. Miss Louvie Peabody sang a solo and Messrs M. T. and R. E. Chase sang a duet.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Bowker of Portland were callers at H. R. Tuell's, Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold I. Merrill and two young daughters of Roxbury, Mass., will spend July and August at the cottage of Mrs. Jennie B. Dunham on Church Street.

The Fourth of July celebration for the benefit of fire protection passed off very well. A very good parade for a small town at ten o'clock began the day. Penley Bros. Co. won first prize on float, Trap Corner Garage on best decorated auto, and H. M. Andrews and Alvah Hendrickson on horrible. The celebrating spirit of men and boys of the night before brought the village into a very disorderly condition with old carts, road rollers, tin cans and dump, decorating the square. House plants were conveyed from piazzas and in some instances uprooted. But the meanest act was breaking the lock on the door at the Baptist Church where several things were destroyed and evidence of beer was seen. If this is the spirit of American patriotism which young men and boys are cultivating, it is certainly very deplorable and something should be done to eliminate the condition.

Narcus Scoullar of Boston was the guest of Mrs. Lora Herrick the week of the Fourth.

The W. C. T. U. meeting was held in the Methodist Chapel, July 6. The Union had the privilege of having with them the county president, Mrs. Minola Aldrich, who is very enthusiastic about prohibition work.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bryant visited at James Kennison's over the week end and spent the Fourth with their niece, Mrs. Amy Farris, who is living on Summer Hill on the Llewellyn Head place.

Mrs. Ethel Curtis is visiting her mother, Mrs. Belle Robinson. Miss Ethel Brock has arrived home after visiting in Illinois and Ohio.

Misses Ella and Clara Berry are spending a two weeks' vacation with their niece at Windham, and with their friend, Miss Edie Raymond at Ocean Park.

MRS. ELYESA J. DENNEN
Mrs. Elyesa J. Dennen passed away early Tuesday morning, July 10, at the home of Mrs. Turner in South Paris where she went to spend a few days previous to her death. Her final illness was caused from chills which she suffered on Thursday previous.

Mrs. Dennen was the daughter of Thomas and Olive (Tuell) Lurvey, and was born in Woodstock

December 18, 1841. She married Bradford B. Dennen in 1861 and after a few months at Snow Falls they moved to a farm in Tuell Town where they spent their early married life.

More than fifty years ago they bought the home on Park Street, West Paris, which was sold only a few months ago.

Mr. Dennen died in September 1899, but Mrs. Dennen always remained in the home except a few winters when she boarded away. She was a charter member of Onward Rebekah Lodge and in religious preference a Methodist.

Mrs. Dennen was a kind neighbor and friend and in earlier years of her life rendered aid in sickness and death.

The funeral at the Methodist Chapel Thursday afternoon was attended by Rev. A. E. Maxell. Onward Rebekah Lodge attended and performed their service. Bearers were A. C. Perham, P. O. Mayhew, R. T. Flavin, W. J. Fall. Burial was in West Paris Cemetery.

The next meeting will be held July 17th. Everyone is invited.

Here's Something to Think About:

The public buys more Goodyear Tires than any other kind—this is the eighteenth successive year! . . . The public wouldn't buy more Goodyear Tires if Goodyears did not offer greater value . . . But they do offer greater value, hence they enjoy greater sales . . . Are you wondering what tire to buy? Just ask yourself this simple question: "Why should I buy any tire but a Goodyear when a Goodyear costs no more?" . . . We think you'll decide it by coming right down to see us.

GOOD YEAR

See how Goodyear puts traction IN THE CENTER of the tread right where it contacts the road—big heavy blocks of rubber—keen-edged, deep-plotted—to dig in, grip tight, hold fast!

ARE YOU WONDERING WHAT TIRE IS BEST?

A Dictionary Feast

Never let go of a dictionary without getting more than you want to it for. This is one place where playing the hog pays handsomely, and it is not just mere selfishness.
It is always possible, no matter how great a hurry one is in, to drop the eye down and take in the meaning of another word. Often the chain thus begun will roll one back into past centuries, for our great modern dictionaries are filled with interesting facts, not just words and meanings alone.

Paintings From Prison

The Society of Independent Artists, New York, has received a dozen paintings from Clinton prison, Dannemora, an institution better known for riots than artistic production. The paintings are the work of convict students in the prison's art class.

FAIR AMAZES LEO

Leo, famous lion of the films, is now one of the exhibitions of A Century of Progress, and to judge from his expression he is amazed by the wonderful exposition that Chicago has built.

Jimmy Mattern, Round the World Solo Flyer

Jimmy Mattern, first aviator to attempt a solo flight around the world, sitting on a wing of his plane, Century of Progress.

HERE AND THERE IN MAINE

Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh came down at South Pond, Watson, Sunday night on account of the heavy fog which made flying hazardous. Monday they flew to North Haven where they visited at the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, where their son Jon and the flyer's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, are staying. They hoped to fault-er Tuesday afternoon.

Ardene C. Cote, 25 years of age, of Bethel, died in the Maine state prison last week as a result of drinking what was said to be a synthetic extract formerly used for cooking which had been kept in a tin container for several years.
It was the second death there from a similar cause. James Maron died June 28, and an autopsy was performed.

Seventy mill owners of Maine,
New Hampshire, Vermont and New York met in Portland Monday for the discussion of plans for regulating business practices in the wood turning industry. Work was begun on the preparation of a code for submission to Gen. Hugh Johnson.

Charging that he was brutally beaten and wrenched in a "third degree" at the hands of State and County officials, six men have been named in damage suits by Fred Steele of Portland. Defendants in the action calling for $10,000 from each officer are Inspectors Harold Vagstad and Albert Thomson, of Portland State Patrolmen Malon
Ellis of Portland and John Marks of Gardiner, Chief Harry Rowe of Auburn and Inspector Adrien Cote of the Androscoggin County sheriff's department.

The Nicholas Ballant Construction Co. of New York was the low bidder for the construction of Lew-iston's new postoffice. The bids were $110,997 for limestone and $140,997 for granite.

The Keyes Fibre Co. of Fairfield, large manufacturers of paper disks have changed from a three shift to a four shift schedule, with the working week reduced from 48 hours to 42 hours. A hundred extra employees are working, making a total of 400.

Edmund Littlefield aged 13 of Wells was swept from the rocks by a big wave at Bald Cliff, York Village, on Tuesday of last week, and drowned while fishing.

Log Rolling That's Not Political

Few of the visitors to A Century of Progress exposition in Chicago have ever seen the loggers of the North and Northwest at work, so they are interested and excited by the exhibitions of log rolling given there.
After Hooper and Sam Harris are the experts in the photograph.

Here Is a New Kind of Airplane

The Arup, the invention of Dr. Cloyd L. Snyder of South Bend, Ind., with which he hopes to reach unprecedented altitudes, was tested at South Bend airport by Glenn Doolittle at an altitude of 2,200 feet. This new craft is the result of seven years of study and experimentation by Doctor Snyder on the principle of the flying wing. He believes that the Arup will revolutionize commercial aviation because of its unusual safety features. It is so designed and constructed as to make a tailspin and a stallspin impossible and lands at a speed lower by five feet per second than does a 500 square foot area parachute.

Explorer a Scientist

Most journeys that seem daring and romantic to the public are expeditions of exploration. An exploration is one way of supplying the science of geography with data, the explorer, in his way, is a scientist. A point less commonly understood is that scientists, who are not explorers in the usual sense, go into strange lands and undergo hardships for other reasons than geographical discovery.

Beaver Stone Masons

A beaver dam built almost entirely of stone was discovered recently in Yellowstone National park by Ranger E. Sheldon Dart. A few willow twigs were the only pieces of wood used in its construction. Mr. Dart says that the stones the beavers have worked into this dam vary in size from pieces as large as a man's fist to some 10 inches in diameter and inches long.

THE UMBAGOG INTERSTATE LARGER PARISH

Summer schedule of services:

North Newry, worship service at 9:15 a. m. Sunday School for the young children; Union service at 11 o'clock followed by Sunday school; Errol, Sunday School at 9:30 followed by worship at 10:45; service alternating each week in Wilson's Mills and Magalloway churches at 7:30 p. m. Summer residents are cordially invited to all the services. Standard time is maintained throughout the parish. Ministers, Rev. C. W. Laws, address Errol, N. H.; Rev. R. S. Irons, North Newry, Maine.

Under the able direction of Miss Gladys E. Doughty the Vacation Church School programs in the parish are progressing splendidly. Miss Doughty is a student in Andover-Newton Theological Seminary and has had several years of experience in this line of church work. Last Sunday evening the combined schools of Wilson's Mills and Magalloway gave a program of worship and exercises in the Magalloway town hall before a large congregation. There was also an exhibit of hand work of both schools. The school began in Errol this week and will be followed by similar schools in Upton and Newry.

The second of the young people's get-togethers will be held at Lakeside Sunday afternoon, July 30, at five o'clock. All members of the parish and their friends in other places are cordially invited to attend this meeting. A picnic supper will be served followed by a sunset gathering on the lake shore. Other details will be announced as soon as possible. Reserve this date for coming to Lakeside. The last meeting in Errol was most successful and every one is looking forward to an even better time this month when some form of organization of the young people in the parish will be considered.

If arrangements can be made the boys and girls camp will be held sometime in August. It is necessary for the ministers to know at once how many are sure they will enroll for the camp. Please report to either Mr. Laws or Mr. Irons if you intend to go. It is necessary to have at least forty enrolled in order to make the camp a success. It is up to the people of the parish to determine whether or not we can have the camp this year. Please co-operate with the ministers in this matter.

The Newry people numbering about thirty-five gathered for a picnic supper and display of fireworks at Wight's Brook Camps on the evening of the Fourth.

And Wasps

The poison-plants of bees and wasps are connected with their ovipositors, which are modified into stings. The poison is held in a round or oval reservoir and is forced into an ovipositor through a tube. Some ichneumon flies have ovipositors six times as long as their bodies. Some gall-flies bore several channels in a plant before they lay their eggs. An egg is pushed from the base of the ovipositor to the point, the point is withdrawn and the egg enters a channel and is pushed forward by the ovipositor until it reaches the bottom of the channel.—Montreal Herald.

Our Richest Presidents

The richest of our Presidents have been Washington, Hayes, Theodore Roosevelt and Hoover. Former President Hoover is usually considered to be the richest man to have held that office, and Theodore Roosevelt the second in wealth. Washington's wealth was chiefly in lands, much of which was unsalable, and though he was one of the four richest men of his time, it is difficult to estimate the value of his fortune. Hayes had a large private fortune, estimated at a million. Taylor, Polk and Buchanan were other rich Presidents.

MRS. SAMUEL D. PHILBROOK

Mrs. Emily J. Philbrook was laid to rest in the family lot at Evergreen Cemetery Saturday afternoon, July 8, at two o'clock. The Rev. Eleanor Forbes, pastor of the Universalist church at West Paris, officiated at the simple impressive service. Out of town relatives who attended were Edward King of Fellsmere, Fla., Mrs. H. C. Philbrook and son Wendell, Mrs. Lovisa Philbrook and son Frank, and S. D. Allen, all of Greene; Mrs. Raymond Jackson of Amesbury, Mass., and Clarence Philbrook of Barre, Vt.

Mrs. Philbrook the widow of the late Samuel D. Philbrook, was born in Bethel Jan. 19, 1843, the daughter of Joanna Rowe and Ira C. Kimball. She had been a resident of Fellsmere for 20 years. She died July 3 at the age of 90, after many years of ill health during which she was attended by the loving and tireless care of her daughter, Mrs. Edward King.

Besides Mrs. King, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Hersey of Keene, N. H., and Mrs. Jesse Ostrander of Huntington, Vt.; by two sons, Harvey C. of Greene, and Dana C. of Bethel; and by several grandchildren.

MRS. SAMUEL D. PHILBROOK

IN MEMORY

It often happens when disaster or the iron hand of hampering physical disability has placed a barrier between friends that a newly freed from the trammels the body seems suddenly to be left behind to become vitally alive and separation is effaced. So friends here and contemporaries Mrs. Philbrook have felt during last week a surging of memories and recollections of the past when she was so prominent, valued a member of the village.

It was a time of simple, but of lively civic consciousness, much pleasant interchange of hospitality from home to home, many rewarding social contacts. In a changed world it seems, a prospect, a period of serenely usefulness. One is glad to have passed one's active life there.

The daughter of Ira Crocker, ball, one of the most prominent men in this county, her girl home was the fine old house, happily for the community, Dr. Mrs. William R. Chapman, a beautifully maintaining. The of her married life on lower Street remains outwardly the same as when she was its efficient, hospitable mistress. There Mrs. Philbrook celebrated their wedding. There too was daughter, Jessie, and there occurred many other social events pleasant memories.

Here was a nature of quiet, subtle strength, of straightforward sincerity; gifted with saving mon sense, with clear perception and keen judgment. Beneath balanced qualities was a generous heart. She was bred in a time when reserve, quiet decorum, were the most characteristic, and seemingly the admired marks of the New Englander. And in order to the real warmth of feeling one knew her well enough to have intruded an outward reserve. By there was a depth which only intimates fully recognized.

One who came here fifty years ago a young bride, knowing in the town, remembers that Philbrook was the first person to come to see her. And the loyal friendship thus begun, older, wiser woman for a year, one, was for many years a possession.

It is in recognition of that relation with herself and her family, and the qualities which kept it through many divided ways a grateful memory, these few inadequate words of appreciation are written.

There were 97 motor vehicles in Maine in June in five people were killed and injured.
